Yellow-gold; said to be vineyard botrytis, and the '11 vintage would have certainly helped; multiple layers of every glace and dried fruits you can imagine, served with lemon gelato, will take you part of the way on the journey. 375ml.

July 2012. Dark gold. Apricot nectar, candied orange, honey and sweet butter on the highly fragrant nose and in the mouth. Lush and creamy in texture, with seamless texture and impressive finishing cling. This decadent wine is a dessert or a breakfast all by itself.
